*The industry classification is based on Japan Standard Industrial Classification (Revised 2013, Oct)

* Minimum wages are determined and revised during discussions and reports done by the council, which consists of representatives of the public interest, workers and employers.

* Wages subject to the minimum wage are limited to base monthly wages.

Further, if the wage is set on a basis other than hourly (daily, monthly, etc.), then that basis will be converted to hourly for comparison.

Also, the following wages are not covered

- ① Wages paid on a temporary basis (e.g. marriage allowance)
- ② Wages paid on a basis which exceeds one month (bonuses, etc.)
- ③ Wages paid for overtime work, holiday work, and night shift work (extra rate, etc.)
- ④ Perfect or high attendance allowance, commuting allowance, family allowance

* Dispatch employees are subject to the minimum wage of the region (industry) to which they are dispatched.

* We provide support for small and medium-sized enterprises and small-scale business establishments.

•Please feel free to contact the Equal Employment Environment Office of the Niigata Labor Bureau (025-288-3528) regarding the "business improvement subsidy", which is support for a wage increase.

•If you have any concerns about wage increase, please feel free to contact Niigata Workplace Reform Promotion Center (Niigata Hatarakikata Kaikaku Suishin Center) (0120-009-229) (free consultation).

If you have inquiries about minimum wage, please contact Niigata Labor Bureau Wage Office (025-288-3504) or your nearest Labor Standards Inspection Office. (Niigata, Nagaoka, Joetsu, Sanjo, Shibata, Niitsu, Koide, Tokamachi, Sado)
